The screenshot displays the IBM Cloud Catalog interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with the IBM Cloud logo, a search bar, and links for Catalog, Manage, and user profile. Below the navigation bar, the main header area features the word "Catalog" and a search input field. A large, stylized illustration of a server rack and various cloud services is positioned on the right side of the header. The main content area is titled "Viewing 206 products" and includes a "Category" filter on the left. The filter lists several categories: Recommended products (6), Compute (30), Containers (9), Networking (29), Storage (19), and AI / Machine Learning (17). The main product grid displays three featured services: 1. Analytics Engine by IBM, described as a platform for submitting Apache Spark applications and customizing Spark runtimes. 2. AnonTech ViziVault Platform by Anon Technology, Inc., described as a platform for managing personal information as a service, ensuring safety, security, and compliance. 3. API Connect by IBM, described as an enterprise-grade platform for creating, securing, managing, sharing, monetizing, and governing APIs. The bottom of the screenshot shows a Windows taskbar with the Start button, a search bar, and several open applications including IBM cloud services documents, a PDF file, and a Python development environment. The system tray on the right indicates a temperature of 29°C, haze, and the date/time as 14:23 on 19-11-2022.
